

Dear Business Partners,

This year all stakeholders have been facing unprecedented difficulties in their businesses.

What expectations should we have for the near future? Will we be back soon to “business as usual”, or do we have to get accustomed to a “new normality in business”? How is the business environment changing in Hungary? How to adapt to this changing environment?

To our upcoming Webinar we have invited experts to help us see more clearly in these stormy times.

Join the webinar for a comprehensive insight and for asking your questions to the participating experts in the panel discussion.
